"Advanced skills department CPSP, provides Internationally accredited courses in advance and basic life support including BLS, PALS, ACLS, ATLS and ALSO. These courses are being provided to the trainees and fellows of the college on subsidized rates. However, college council has decided to extend the availability of courses of members and organizations in the civil society as well, So that the general public should get the maximum benefit.

The main objective of this decision is to impart life saving quality training to organizations and members of society who have direct public interactions and training in basic life support programs are essential for them.

However, at the moment the College will be able to provide the courses to any such organizations at an unsubsidized fee, which of course is higher than what the college offers to its own trainees and supervisors. Punjab Government has taken an initiative in this regards and in the recent past any employee of the Health Department of the Government of the Punjab who wishes to attend these courses have only to pay 50% of the subscribed fee and the rest is paid through a government of the Punjab fund.
